Twice victorious over the Brooklyn's at Washington Park yesterday afternoon, th Chicago Cubs made a clean sweep of the series-five games. Nearly 20,000 fansthe biggest crowd since opening day in Gowanus-saw Dahlen's men make just one little run in eighteen innings and lose by scores of 2 to 0 and 5 to 1. Napoleon Rucker was pitted against the former Pirate, Lefty Leifield, in the first former Pirate, Lefty Leifield, in the first battle. These star southpaws worked like beavers all the way, but Leifield clearly excelled. He limited the Brooklyns to three hits, struck out seven men and didn't give a base on balls. Up to the eighth inning Dahlen got only two men to first base. One reached there on a muff by Evers in the second inning. In the fifth Wheat scratched a hit on a grounder that bounded badly for Saier, but Zach was easily retired when he tried to stretch the drive into a double.

Cutshaw doubled in the eighth with one out, but Leifield turned on extra power and Cutty remained anchored. In the ninth Phelps as a pinch hitter for Rucker singled to centre, but he was forced by and Cutty remained anchored. In the ininth Phelps as a pinch hitter for Rucker singled to centre, but he was forced by Hummel, batting for Moran. Then Leifield fanned the next two men.

The Cubs scored their two runs in the second inning after two men were down. Saler walked and stole, after which Evers received a pass and Archer rapped a base hit to centre. Saler easily scored on this safe smash. Moran's great throw to the plate got away from Miller and Evers also counted. The Cubs had men on bases in each of the remaining innings, but Rucker's curves prevented further damage. The second game was a beauty up to the ninth inning. Then Tex Erwin dropped a thrown ball at the plate. This error was directly responsible for four runs and allowed the Cubs to run off the field in high glee. Incidentally Evers made a clean steal home in that painful period and Dahlen was chased to the clubhouse by Umpire Brennan.

Allen, the $5,000 left hander, and Lou Richie, the Man of Mystery, hooked up for another pitchers' battle in this affair and they had the crowd on tiptoe all the way. Although the Cubs won, Allen held them to three hits and fanned eight. But he marred his work with seven bases on balls, Seven hits were garnered from Richie's easy looking delivery, but the Cubs supported him without an error and kept him steady in the pinches, although near the end Reulback was warming up in case of a crash.

Moran hung up the Dodgers' lone run in the first inning when he accepted a and Richie in the fiifth inning, leaving runners on second and third.

Tinker's double in the sixth inning with two out was the first hit off Allen, but it was useless, as Daubert's great stop settled Zimmerman. The last half of this inning furnished an excellent sample of the Dodgers' play. Daubert opened with a single and Wheat advanced him on a grounder that Saier knocked down within a foot of first base for an out. Cutshaw beat out a bunt and Dau-

As Zimmerman slid, feet first, into the plate he was called out by Brennan, but the ruling was reversed, as Erwin dropped the ball. Allen, plainly disheartened, handed a pass to Needham and filled the bags. Leach scored on Richie's fly to Northen, on which the other runners also took a base each. With Sheckard at the bat Allen paid no heed to Evers on third and kept winding up to use all the speed at his command. Evers made a bolt for the plate and was on top of it before Allen let the ball fly. Erwin caught the leather squarely over the pan, yet Evers slid under him without being touched. Is Luther McCarty a real fighter or a counterfeit? Is the young heavyweight from Springfield, Mo., who recently knocked out Carl Morris, the coming champion of the world or is he just an other of those mushroom phenomenons se often exploded in the ring? These questions probably will be answered to the satisfaction of a big crowd in Madison Square Garden to-morrow night, when McCarty will be tried out by Jim Stew art of Brooklyn in a ten round bout. Much has been claimed for McCarty by his manager, William McCarney, who discovered him in a Chicago gymnasium less than a year ago and actually believes that the big fellow eventually will whip all comers, black or white. Yet McCarty's rise to fame to wholly the re-sult of a decisive victory over Morris, the Oklahoma giant, who stood up under a terrific bombardment from Jim Flynn in the Garden last fall without being sent to the floor. Morris also outpointed Tom Kennedy in December and really defeated Stewart in a ten round bout in Brooklyn before the latter turned the tables in a similar affair at one of the Harlem cluba. When Stewart whipped Morris in clean cut fashion by jabbing his face with

His career in this city was exided and nobody regretted it more than Afbert Palzer, who had refused to meet Morris for a $13,000 purse. Yet Morris left here with one point in his favor. Nobody had been able to knock him of his feet.

Nobody had been able to knock him on his feet.

It was a complete surprise to ring followers, therefore, when the news came over the wires last spring that the hitherto unknown McCarty had knocked Morris out in a fight at Springfield, Mo. At first the report was discredited, but soon first the report was discredited, but soon the fact that McCarty had stopped the locomotive engineer with tremendous blows was generally confirmed. Naturally the conclusion was drawn that McCarly must be a wonder, and his victory promptly created the impression that at fast a white man had been unearthed who, some day, might win back the world's heavyweight championship from Jack

I had him practically out his the first round but could not finish him because my strongth failed me. The terbecause my strength failed me. The ter rific heat affected me so much that couldn't put on weight and I was reall ill at times. I stopped Kennedy, a ver good man, but I couldn't stand any mor training. American training. Americans are square spe-men. They lionized me after Palzer beaten me and they want me to ret leaten me and they want me to return I'm going back in the fall and shall ask Palzer for another go. Johnson is extremely unpopular and his defeat would be welcomed, but Palzer isn't the man to do it. He's too green."
